Read the following text carefully, then answer all the following questions. Your answers should be based on the text.

A Great Way To Spend The Weekend Is To Get Out Of Crowded, Noisy Cities And Visit The Countryside. In Fact, Walking In The Countryside Is A Very Popular Free-Time Activity In Britain. And Why Not? There Are Trees, Flowers, Green Grass And Animals Like Sheep And Cows. You Can Breathe Fresh Air And Recharge Your Batteries If You're Feeling Tired. But Although The Countryside Is Very Popular With British People, 20% Of British Children Have Never Visited The Countryside. That Is Unusual Because Most British Cities And Towns Are Very Close To Country Areas. If You Ask Teens From Any Big UK City What They Think Of The Countryside, Most Will Probably Say It's Boring! They Think It's More Fun To Play Video Games Or Watch TV.

Jamie Feilden, Who Runs Jamie's Farm With His Family, Believes Children Should Visit The Countryside Because They Can Learn A Lot From It. In 2006, When Jamie Was A Teacher, He Decided To Help Some Students Who Were Having Problems At Home And At School. His Family Owns A Farm And He Thought The Students Could Stay There For A Few Days. The Trip Was A Huge Success. The Students, Who Were from The city, really Enjoyed The Experience Of Farm life, and Their behaviour at school ( المنهاج البريطاني )
