READING FOR FUN ACTIVITIES

In groups discuss the following questions.

1. In your own words, describe the challenge each of the two characters has set for the other.

Malek challenged Mansour to sleep on the roof without any cover or fire to keep him warm.

Mansour wanted to teach Malek a lesson which was to keep his promise: to take Mansour on a journey if he slept on the roof at night without a cover.

2. What was the motive behind each challenge? Did the characters mean well? Explain your answer.

Malek was rich and was wearing a heavy coat. He challenged Mansour, knowing that Mansour was wise. Maybe he was arrogant and felt like humiliating Mansour. On the other hand, Mansour had good intentions. He invited Malek for dinner to show him the importance of keeping one's promise.

3. Do you think that Mansour was fair in his response to Malek's challenge? What does this tell us about Mansour?

Mansour was fair. He convinced Malek that the candle, which could not cook the meat, did not keep him warm that night on the roof.

4. What do you think of the end of the story? Did you expect it? Is it fair?

In the end, the two men were happy. Malek knew he was wrong, and Mansour was going to go on a journey to see a wonderful place.

5. Fill in the following table with information about the story.

Title	Mansour and the Candle
Characters	Mansour, Malek
Setting (time, place)	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. A day when Malek's challenge and promise were made</li> <li>2. The night Mansour slept on the roof</li> <li>3. The dinner at Mansour's house one week later, when the resolution took place</li> </ol>
Events	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Malek challenges Mansour to sleep on the roof at night and promises to take him on a journey.</li> <li>2. Mansour sleeps without any cover.</li> <li>3. Malek does not keep his promise saying that Mansour used the candles in other houses to keep him warm.</li> <li>4. Mansour is sad and thinks of a plan: he invites Malek for dinner to teach him a lesson.</li> <li>5. Mansour shows Malek a candle under the meat hanging from a tree.</li> </ol>
The end	Malek knows he is wrong, and Mansour will go on a journey with Malek to a wonderful place.

6. In your notebook, draw a table and write adjectives that describe each character, Mansour and Malek.

Mansour and the Candle: Characters and qualities
Mansour	hopeful, wise, poor, humble, perseverant, honest, faithful, fair
Malek	rich, unfair and arrogant (in the beginning); generous, faithful and fair (in the end)
